By Sharon See, Channel NewsAsia

SINGAPORE : Viewers will now have a wider choice of digital content presented on multiple platforms other than TV.

1-net, which operates the broadband network SingaporeONE, has launched NexMedia, which will provide on-demand digital content across various platforms such as Broadband, 3G, IPTV and Digital Cinema.

With NexMedia, users will now have access to about 6,000 movie titles from GV Films, a major Bollywood producer, and animation, live action and music libraries from Ford Studios of the US.

NexMedia will also roll out MOBTV, a video-on-demand service of MediaCorpTV.

The service allows viewers to watch MediaCorp's past free-to-air TV content, as well as other footage never seen before on TV.

In addition, NexMedia is planning to support Channel NewsAsia Online by providing video streaming of news and documentary segments.

They are also planning to carry MediaCorp TV12 programmes.
